Thoughts For Reflection:

"The disciples on the Emmaus Road weren't praying in any formal way. they were not having a Bible study or worshipping in the synagogue. They were not having a formal quiet time. They were discussing the stuff of their lives - all the things that had happened that were having such an impact on them spiritually and in every other way - and something about the nature and quality of their conversation opened up space for Jesus to draw near. And the encounter that took place among them was completely reorienting and life changing."
