Isaiah 38:13-17

13 I cried out until morning:

“Like a lion God crushes all my bones.
Between daybreak and nightfall
you carry out your verdict against me.

14 Like a swallow I chirp;
I moan like a dove.

My eyes have grown weary looking to heaven.
Lord, I’m overwhelmed; support me!”

15 What can I say?

God has spoken to me;
he himself has acted.

I will wander my whole life
with a bitter spirit.

16 The Lord Most High is the one who gives
life to every heart,
who gives life to the spirit!

17 Look, he indeed exchanged my bitterness for wholeness.
You yourself have spared my whole being
from the pit of destruction, because you have cast all my sins
behind your back.

Postlude:

Thoughts for Reflection:

"I seek the courage to live - this day. How easily I slip into the mood that is desultory, that quietly informs my mind that tomorrow I can begin the new way, tomorrow I can make the fresh turning in my road. Courage to strike out on a path I have never trod before, courage to make new friends, courage to yield myself to the full power of the dream, courage to yield my life with abiding enthusiasm to the spirit of God and the wide reaches of His creative undertakings among the children of men and women - This I seek today."
